

Wehrgasse 28/Top 7
1050 Wien
T: +43 1 320 53 17
M: +43 676 433 46 03
E-mail: agentur@hollaender-calix.at

SYLVIA HAMVASI

Budapest-born soprano Sylvia Hamvasi studied at the Ferenc Liszt Academy of music in her hometown. In the course of her studies, she attended master classes with Vera Rozsa, Julia Hamari and Nicholas Clapton. Her masters were Ilona Bakonyi, Julia Bikfalvy and Gabor Jelinek.

Sylvia Hamvasi won several prizes at international competitions, such as Lucia Popp in Bratislava or Francesco Vignas in Barcelona.

She was member of the Youth Opera Studio FIBO in Budapest.

Future engagements include Infantin Isabella in Märchen im Grand-Hotel, Belinda in Der Leuchtturm / Dido Und Aeneas, Donna Anna in Don Giovanni, Antonia in Les contes d'Hoffmann (Hoffmanns Erzählungen) sowie Micaëla (Michaëla) in Carmen an der Deutsche Oper am Rhein.

In 2024 she sang, amongst other parts, Infantin Isabella in Märchen im Grand-Hotel and Blanche de La Force in Dialogues des Carmélites an der Deutsche Oper am Rhein.

2023 saw her as Liù in Turandot, Erste Dame in Die Zauberflöte

Le nozze di Figaro (Die Hochzeit des Figaro), La Contessa di Almaviva in Le Nozze di Figaro at Deutsche Oper am Rhein.

In March 2022 she debuted as `Katja´ in Janacek´s Katja Kabanowa, followed by her act as Nedda in Leoncavallo`s Pagliacci and finally as Ortlinde in Wagner`s Walküre and Freia in Wagner`s Rheingold.

In 2021 Sylvia Hamvasi sang, amongst other parts, Madame in Weinberg: Maseltov along with Erste Dame in Zauberflöte.

Her debut was as Gilda and Pamina at the Hungarian State Opera. In Budapest, she gave many concerts and made recordings for the Hungarian Radio under the direction of Tamas Vasary with the Hungarian Radio Orchestra. Hamvasi additionally had several early music projects with the Orfeo Orchestra under György Vashegyi.

She gave concerts e. g. in Belgium, Spain, France, and Italy (under the direction of Zoltan Pesko). Her recital at London`s Wigmore Hall of Schubert, Schumann and Brahms songs was met great recognition as well as the Four last songs of Richard Strauss under the direction of Axel Kober at the Tonhalle Düsseldorf.

She has performed e.g. at the Hamburg State Opera as Erminde in Keiser`s Jodelet (under M.Alessandro de Marchi), in Bonn as Mimi (staged by Dietrich Hilsdorf), in Wuppertal as Mimi (staged by Jan David Schmitz) and Frankfurt as Konstanze and Antonia (staged by Christof Loy).

Since 2001/2002 , she is a permanent member of the Ensemble of Deutsche Oper am Rhein Düsseldorf.

Among other performances, Hamvasi convinced her audience with major roles as:

Mozart:

Sandrina (La finta giardiniera)

Susanna (Le nozze die Figaro)

Pamina (Die Zauberflöte)

Konstanze (Die Entführung aus dem Serail)

Fiordiligi (Cosi fan tutte)

Lucio Cinna (Lucio Silla)

Contessa (Le nozze di Figaro)

Erste Dame (Die Zauberflöte)

Händel: Cleopatra (Giulio Cesare)

Rameau: La Folie (Platee)

Donizetti: Lucia di Lammermoor (under M.Barbacini)

Verdi: Gilda (Rigoletto)

Alice Ford (Falstaff) M. Ctrescenzi

Leoncavallo: Nedda (Pagliacci)

Puccini:

Mimi (Boheme)

Suor Angelica Liu (Turandot)

Britten:

Titania (A Midsummer Night`s Dream)

The Governess (The Turn of the screw) staged by Immo Karaman

Ellen Orford (Peter Grimes) staged by Immo Karaman

Zemlinsky: Donna Clara (Zwerg) staged by Immo Karaman

Offenbach: Antonia (Les contes d`Hoffmann) staged by Christof Loy

Charpentier:

Louise (staged by Christof Loy, under Jonathan Darlington)

Her interpretation showed extraordinary power of persuasion, which caused a sensation.

Gounod: Juliette (Romeo and Juliette, 2019)

Poulenc: Dialogues des Carmelites (Blanche)

Wagner:

Elsa (Lohengrin), under Axel Kober , staged by Hartmannshenn

Gutrune (Götterdämmerung), under Axel Kober

Woglinde, Freia, 1/1 Blumenmädchen)